Cobber Last Meet Recap

MOORHEAD, Minn. -- Concordia continued their early-season success at the Dragon Open hosted by MSU Moorhead on Saturday as they had nine wrestlers record at least three victories in the meet and placed three athletes in championship matches of their various weight classes. The Cobbers also placed 12 of their 21 wrestlers at the meet in the top six of their weight classes. Overall, Concordia wrestlers posted a 46-38 record during the meet.

Leading the way for the Cobber matmen was freshman Matt Nyvold who won the White Division at the 125-lb weight class. The meet was separated into to divisions. The Red Division was for sophomore, junior and senior wrestlers and the White Division was for first-year collegiate wrestlers - although some coaches did enter experienced wrestlers in the White Division which makes the Cobber freshmen results even more noteworthy. Nyvold posted a perfect 3-0 record in the 125-lb weight class. All three wins came against wrestlers from top flight Division I, II or NAIA programs. He started the meet by beating Andy Hackenmueller of NDSU 7-6. He then downed Brandon Rifa of Jamestown in semifinals 5-2 and claimed the title by outlasting Casey Dschaak of MSU Moorhead 5-4 in the finals.

The other two Concordia wrestlers that competed in the championship match of their weight class were Tanner Jorud and Dustin Roggenbuck. Jorud placed second at 174 by recording a pair of wins in the quarterfinals and semifinals before losing a close 5-4 match to Kenny Moenkedick of NDSU. Roggenbuck opened the meet at 197 by pinning Jamie Zuniga of Rochester Community College at 1:59. He then went on to beat Heath Roberts 4-0 before losing to Lance Peters from Augustana in the finals.

Tonight's Tentative Schedule
